Subject: Application for the position of Full Time Head Chef

Dear Madame Bellasiette,

When I read that you were looking for a Head Chef for "l'Alpage d'Or" hotel and restaurant in Zermatt, it was only natural that I decided to apply. Having won many prestigious awards, your establishment's excellent reputation and the incomparable quality of its cuisine have convinced me that it would be an ideal opportunity to work for you.

Having graduated with a Master's degree in hospitality and culinary arts from the University of Lucerne, I have been working as a Head Chef in the very famous Vignoble restaurant in Lausanne for more than 3 years now. I also worked as an assistant at the Maurizio in Basel, as well as in the kitchens of Michelin-starred restaurant L'Apostrophe in Besançon. During my career, my roles included several responsibilities such as setting tables, welcoming customers and training new assistants.

I am a very organised, detail oriented person, with an innate sense for precision. Living up to the prestige of the establishments for which I've worked is a real challenge and as such pushes me to always put my best self forward. I also speak English and Italian fluently.

Should you offer me this position, my robust work ethic, exemplary professionalism and strong ability to deliver under pressure will shine through. I am also a good listener, supportive, and I always build excellent relationships with the customers I'm assigned to look after.

I hope this letter was able to grab your attention and I look forward to hearing from you.

Best regards,
